

Case Study

Industry
Engineering

Products
Terrace 2.6

Opportunity
Increase worker productivity and satisfaction by providing a versatile, durable solution that accommodates the work needs of both engineers and administrators while allowing access to natural light and overcoming a strong loyalty to a long time incumbent.

Color Palette

Laminate
D Natural Maple

Edge
E9 Flint

Pedestals
STR03 Stratosphere Charcoal

Panels
TSN987 Tasanee Citrus
TSN951 Tasanee Frost

Paint
P02 Flint

Terrace® Wins with Engineers

When a company that specializes in professional engineering, architectural, geospatial, and related consulting services moved their headquarters into a new space, they needed an office solution suitable for a wide variety of tasks. Terrace's flexibility made their decision simple – even over their long-time existing office work stations.

Reasons for Success

They had been a loyal Herman Miller customer for more than 25 years but Allsteel and the Allsteel dealer partnered to provide them an unbeatable combination of expert knowledge, planning expertise and a flexible product solution.

The project's greatest challenge was addressing their goal to give every employee access to natural light and the ability to look out of a window. To accomplish this, the orientation of each workstation was well thought out and leveraged Terrace's variety of worksurface shapes as the direction each workstation changed.

Lower wing walls were also used to maintain a line of sight to the windows and, with Terrace's 13" tile increments, the employees were provided with the privacy they needed with 56" and 69" walls.

In their new space, engineers now had deeper work surfaces for important documents while administrators enjoyed more storage by trading their traditional guest chairs for cushioned mobile pedestals. "Their reaction has been extremely positive," the executive account manager with the Allsteel dealer said.

Create. Change. Connect. Terrace lets you express your brand, your culture, and your workstyle with style and functionality that adapts and lasts.