“Terrace has helped us address competitive business challenges, as well as ongoing internal expansion.”

—Stephen Buss, CEMCON project manager

The goal of achieving operational efficiencies created the opportunity for a whole new CEMCON workplace. CEMCON is an engineering, land surveying, and land-planning consulting firm, located in Aurora, IL. It specializes in land development and related services. Consolidating three facilities into one corporate headquarters improved team dynamics, workflow, and created cost efficiencies, which will facilitate an increase in capabilities and staff over the next decade.

Who needs four walls when you’ve got ultimate flexibility, room to grow, and abundant natural light?

Terrace 3.4 was an obvious choice due to its flexibility and durability. It allows CEMCON to adeptly handle on-going reconfiguration and expanding technology and cabling needs. The decision to use only Allsteel furniture throughout the space made specifying, ordering, receiving, and installation a whole lot easier. Everything was carefully timed for just-in-time arrival and set up. The new workplace features more teaming and meeting areas to accommodate CEMCON’s workstyle.
